Anthony Roberts-Moore

Anthony Roberts-Moore

Has spent his life since the age of twelve disliking religions. Now seventy-eight years old he is still an enemy of all religions and a member of many humanist associations.

He hopes this little book helps children – and all people of all ages to become more deeply thinking people!

Anthony is one of the most popular speakers at funeral services and is probably the most admired and required at that task when families want a humanist, non-religious funeral celebration of the life of a deceased loved one....

His websites are very popular and you can read there what families say about Anthony on his sites:-

www.humanismvoiced.co.uk www.humanistcelebrants.co.uk www.humanism.me

You will get an idea of Anthony's nature, character and personality as you read this book but he remains a very private person, reluctant always to speak of himself under any conditions in which he finds himself. Privacy is an aspect of life he treasures.
